Pathway Volleyball Tournament 2017

This was my second year playing at the Pathway Volleyball Tournament and it was probably the most fun I've ever had playing volleyball. I think that going to tournaments like these, and playing other schools is a great experience for everybody. Getting to know other teams is also how to make good friends that last a lifetime.

One fun experience I had while playing at the Pathway Tournament was jamming my finger. It was during the last game on Friday. I went up to tip the ball over the net and I felt the ball hit directly on top of my finger and jam it. Coach Monica had to wrap it and I couldn't set or serve the rest of the game. In the morning I unwrapped it and there was a huge bruise on my finger that came with swelling. So that was fun.

This year we don't have any seniors, which has pros and cons to it. One positive factor about it is that we will have everyone returning next year. Which means we already know how we play together. I am excited to build an even stronger relationship with our team for the remainder of this year and for next year too.

Greetings one and all. Thank you for reading our newsletter. Before you are finished though I would like to challenge you through this short story.

In ancient times, a king had a boulder placed on a roadway near his castle. Then he hid himself and watched to see if anyone would remove the huge rock. Some of the king's wealthiest merchants and courtiers came by and just walked around it. Many loudly blamed the king for not keeping the roads clear, but none did anything about getting the stone out of the way. Then a peasant came along carrying a load of vegetables. On approaching the boulder, the peasant laid down his burden and tried to move the stone to the side of the road. After much pushing and straining, he finally succeeded. As the peasant picked up his load of vegetables, he noticed a purse lying in the road where the boulder had previously been. The purse contained many gold coins and a note from the king indicating that the gold was for the person who removed the boulder from the roadway.

In your own life you will have boulders along the way. These boulders represent any obstacles or trials in your life. You have two choices of ways to deal with them. You can either keep avoiding the boulder and complain about it like the merchants and courtiers did, or you can make the best of your situation and ask God for the strength to help you move the boulder! You may not be rewarded with gold coins like the peasant was, but you will be rewarded eternally with God.
