The Pathway volleyball tournament this year was exciting. I am so proud of my team and how they played together. Last year we were a young team. With more experience this year, we trust each other more and have even better relationships. We are all looking forward to next year's season and the home tournament! We play at the Northern Illinois Christian Conference tournament on October 13 for a big chance to become conference champions! We are currently the number 2 seed, and look forward to competing in that.

Fall Festival Program

As we have in previous years, our school did a program at the annual Fall Festival in Kalona on Friday, September 28. It was delightfully cold. We could all see our breath outside in the 50 degree weather we were performing in! To start the program, the Pre-K and Kindergarten class sang a song or two and quoted a poem directed by Mrs. Telliho. Mrs. Leonard led her class in two songs, and Mrs. Alatalo's class joined them for the quoting of a Scripture passage. They were followed by a hysterical skit directed by Mrs. Alatalo about being distracted from focusing on God during devotions. The High Schoolers then sang some songs of our own. We don't have a music teacher, so we were very thankful to have the student worship team lead us in four songs. The Fall Festival is a great opportunity for us as a school to minister to others through singing, skits, or poems. The staff here at Pathway reminds us every time we sing in front of others to remember the message we are portraying through the song. This is a good reminder because sometimes we get so caught up in doing the same thing every day, that we lose sight of the important things in life.

Mystery Person

Rules of the game

1. You have two chances to guess who the mystery person is each month. After two, your guesses are invalid.
2. The mystery person is always a student or staff member at Pathway.
3. Your guesses are only official if they are asked to a newsletter member-Brooke, Tanner, or myself (Justin)
4. The winner gets a prize at the end of the month. Happy guessing!

Some clues about our mystery person...

His/her favorite color is pink

He/she likes to color

He/she has 1 sibling

Art is his/her favorite class/subject

He/she doesn't have a favorite movie.

Last month's winner was Rachel S. The mystery person was Logan Stutzman!
